Venice 3rd in State, 1st in Fans' Hearts

Signs and banners welcoming home the Venice High School cagers lined the streets of Venice as over 300 carloads of Red Devil fans banded to gather at 12:30 p.m. Sunday at the stoplight intersection of Illinois Route 203 and Bend Road.

The team, it was clear, might be third in state class A (small high school) competition, but it was first in the hearts of many thousands of fans.

The autos — along with fire trucks, police cars and motorcycles — were decorated with red and white streamers and a large sign reading "Venice Red Devils — Our Champions."

The parade traveled through the Eagle Park area, down Second Street in Madison and all around Venice, ending at the school.

Over 1,000 fans filled the Venice gym to pay tribute to the team.

"Needless to say, everyone in Venice, in fact everyone in the Tri-Cities, is proud of our team," Mayor John E. Lee told the gathering.

"Both the team and the cheerleaders on and off the floor at Champaign made everyone proud of them."

The team won Friday night and divided two Saturday tournament games to capture the third-place statewide trophy.

Venice School Superintendent John O. Pier, Lewis Sabin, high school principal, Leo Davinroy, president of the Venice board of education, and Horace Calvo, state representative, all gave high praise to the team and the cheerleaders.

When Devil Coach Bill Ohlendorf was introduced to speak, he received a standing and enthusiastic round of applause that lasted several minutes.

Ohlendorf, filled with emotion, lauded not only the basketball talents of the team but its attitude and behavior during the entire season. The squad was described by the coach as "truly outstanding."

Following the 45-minute program in the gym, a social for the fans and team was held in the cafeteria.

FIRE DESTROYS HOUSE

Fire burned to the ground the house of Claude Warren, 207 Hill St., Eagle Park Acres, Saturday afternoon. Madison firemen were called at 1 p.m. Saturday and the fire was out of control when they arrived.

Flames also damaged the home of Mildred Jennings, 205 Hill Street. A malfunction in a gas stove at Warren's house is believed to have started the fire.

HOUSE RANSACKED

The home of Thomas Bass, 3100 Jill Ave., was ransacked and burglarized after the window on the east side of the building was forced open. Taken were a .25 caliber pistol, $30 purse and a half carton of cigarettes, it was reported at 9:25 p.m. Saturday.

Dunbar Future to Be Discussed Wednesday

By GARY SCHNEIDER
Press-Record Staff Writer

Members of the Madison School Board Thursday night asked residents of the West Madison area to express their opinions on whether Dunbar Elementary School should be retained or demolished.

Board members are being invited to an open meeting of the Dunbar School Parent-Teacher Club at 7 p.m. Wednesday at the Dunbar cafeteria during which parents and West Madison residents will be given an opportunity to express their views on the issue.

The long-standing controversy concerning the condition of the school was brought out again Thursday after the School Board appropriated $8,545 for life-safety code repairs to Harris Elementary School and $8,645 for repairs to Blair School, but none for Dunbar.

Mrs. Barbara Madison, a member of the Dunbar School parents group, asked if Dunbar is in full compliance with the life-safety code of the state. Fred Riddle, superintendent of schools, replied, "No. With the life-safety code, it would be better to bulldoze it down and start over."

Mrs. Madison then asked, "Would you do that, please?"

Board Member Chester McManaway asked if Mrs. Madison was speaking for all of the residents of the West Madison area in her request to have the school demolished.

"The idea of tearing down that school is not contrary to the thinking of some of us on the board," McManaway said. Mrs. Madison replied that she would bring the issue before the parents and any West Madison residents who wanted to attend the parents club meeting Wednesday. McManaway asked if she would "test the pulse of the people there" and inform the school board what their wishes were concerning the future of Dunbar.

Mrs. Madison later said she felt the school board members should attend Wednesday night's parents meeting and draw their own conclusions from what they hear, rather than having her report on the feelings of the people in the Dunbar area.

Board member William Walker told the board, "I would not like to see Dunbar demolished and nothing else built on the site." Walker suggested that when citizen advisory boards now being formed are completed, the group studying integration in the district should "investigate the Dunbar issue and advise the board," Walker said.

Mrs. Madison asked how long it will be until appointments to advisory boards will be completed. Under guidelines of the Office of the State Superintendent of Public Instruction, the board agreed to have each member make appointments to various advisory boards.

Harold Fisk, board president, said most members have made their appointments and the makeups of the advisory groups will be announced when the remaining appointments have been made.

Mrs. Madison also asked the board if there are plans to end the present split-shift schedule at Madison Junior High School next year.

"The parents want to know if the board has made plans for a whole day of school for the junior high school age students after they leave Dunbar and Blair," she said. Fisk's reply was, "No plans."

Addressing himself to another issue, John Palchick, assistant superintendent, remarked, "If we think of the children first, I think we can solve a lot of problems in this district."

Mrs. Mabel Dandridge, treasurer and past president of the Madison branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP), remarked, "If you had thought of the children first,

Funeral services were held today. Details are given in the obituary column.

Softball occupied Alderman Paul Schuler, his rival for mayor, during a number of city and township meetings for which payment was made. Mayor Donald Partney asserted today.

The mayor's review of the alderman's attendance record follows:

"It is clear that Alderman Schuler, who wants to be mayor, will not hesitate to kick a man while he is down. What this candidate does not understand is that I might have been down temporarily, but I was not out—and I am back up."

"One of the smears this man has used, and is using, is the number of meetings I missed, how bad my health was, and that I am, in polite language, a liar. He and I must discuss this a little further, at a later date."

"To look at a man's attendance at council meetings while he is sick is one thing, and his attendance when he is not sick is quite another."

"In 18 years as an alderman, I missed only two meetings."

"Let's take a look at Alderman Schuler's absenteeism over just a four-year period as an alderman."

"June 22, 1970—Missed Town Board meeting and Council meeting. Midtown Pharmacy played Hook's at 9 p.m. He was paid $10 for the Town Board meeting and $50 for the Council meeting."

"July 26, 1970—Played softball according to the Press-Record edition of 7-23-70. Missed Town Board meeting and was late for the Council meeting. Was paid $10 for the Town Board meeting and $50 for the Council meeting."

Nonn Says 'No' To Mayor Job

In a statement today to "the voters and citizens of Granite City," Alderman Walter F. Nonn said, "On April 3, you will be asked to vote for a mayor. It has been rumored that I, Alderman Nonn, am supporting the mayor because I might succeed him some time during his administration."

"I wish to state that I would not, under any circumstances, accept the full-time mayor's job in Granite City."

"I have just recovered from a year-long illness myself. My chief responsibility and concern now is representing the good people of the 8th Ward."

"I am supporting the mayor, with whom I have had — and probably will have many more — disagreements about operation of the mayor's job."

"I am strictly a ward alderman and the 8th Ward comes first with me. The mayor looks at the whole city which he represents, and justifiably so, because that is what he is elected to do."

"Mayor Partney, during his administration, has kept the city in the black, and we finished this year with a surplus of approximately $800,000. What other cities in our country can boast this? Our nation should be run so well."

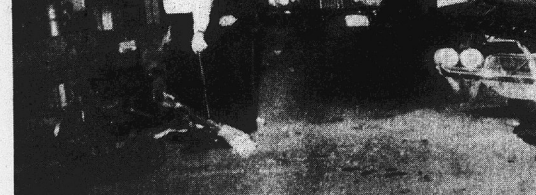

"We have many important projects facing the city in the next four years; namely, the $13½ million pollution plant, the Downtown mall, adequate drainage for people in Briarcliff and other parts of the Nameoki area."

"In speaking of drainage, I wonder if people know about, and appreciate the fact that, through Mayor Partney's efforts the city was refunded $611,000 from the Civil Defense Disaster Fund after the sewer breaks in the Nameoki area."

"Now, in regard to a statement that this city is decaying. How is it?"

"The bonds of many people

Urges Poplar Street Bridge be Renamed

The Illinois Senate has unanimously adopted a joint resolution urging that the Poplar Street Bridge spanning the Mississippi River between Illinois and St. Louis be renamed the Veterans Bridge.

Senator Sam Vadalabene (D-Edwardsville) was Senate sponsor of House Joint Resolution 22, which earlier passed the House unanimously under sponsorship of Representative Monroe Flinn (D-Cahokia).

Senator Vadalabene said: "Now that the old Veterans Bridge has been renamed,

NEWS STAFF PROMOTIONS. Marion E. Bartosiak (left) has been named government editor and Gary R. Schneider, regional editor of the Press-Record.

American military veterans no longer have a bridge memorial in the St. Louis region.

"For this reason, Representative Flinn and I felt it would be appropriate to change the name of the I-55-70 Poplar Street Bridge to Veterans Bridge.

"Our resolution calls for the States of Illinois and Missouri, with the support of the American Legion, to join in requesting that the bridge be renamed so that veterans will once again have a monument they richly deserve.

"Copies of the resolution are being sent to the Secretary of the U.S. Interior Department and to the Governors of the two states. I hope federal officials act soon to make the name change.

"It may seem relatively unimportant to many, but it means a great deal to a large number of veterans and their families throughout the United States, especially in the region on both sides of the River."

'Moonlighting' Jeopardizes Approval of Highly Qualified Doctor as State Official

By AL MANNING
Copley News Service

Springfield—The State Senate is not usually a seminar in theoretical political ideology. Most of the time it is simply a workshop for passing laws.

But now the senators on the executive committee have dealt with a very real problem—the recruitment of top people to government.

The unfortunate center of controversy at the committee meeting was Dr. Mark Lepper, an eminently qualified physician nominated by Gov. Dan Walker to be the director of comprehensive health planning.

Although one senator named him perhaps the most qualified person to ever come before the committee, his appointment was stalled on a 124-party vote.

The problem is financial. Dr. Lepper earned $82,500 at Rush Medical School. The state job pays $35,000.

Since he is not anxious to make the personal financial sacrifice—and he is even more concerned about the pension benefits his wife would lose—the school agreed to supplement his salary to the tune of $25,500.

He resigned four positions at the school and remained as a professor.

Republicans, led by Chairman Frank Ozinga, were concerned on two fronts:

Is it a conflict of interest for a state government employee to serve in a capacity where he could possibly control the amount of state funds given to the agency for which he worked part-time?

Does the director of a major state agency have the time to perform outside work?

The questions raised are similar to ones raised at the national level concerning the relationship between government and private enterprise, especially the military-industrial complex, as it has come to be described.

In the case of Dr. Lepper, he explained that it would be unlikely for him to be in a position to rule on the state funds going to Rush.

As for working full and part-time, Dr. Lepper said he is accustomed to working 60 to 70 hours per week.

If approved, he would work 50 to 60 hours per week on his state job and eight to 10 hours for the medical school.

In contrast, some state employees work as few as 32 hours a week and are considered full-time.

Senate President William Harris said former Gov. Richard Ogilvie dealt with the recruiting problem in an "honest and direct" way and Gov. Walker is not. He suggested that the legislature look at the possibility of raising the salary of certain positions so they would not need the outside supplement.

Other Republicans said they were concerned about the precedent supplemental salaries would set for other state employees.

Either the Republicans were ignorant that Ogilvie did the same thing for nearly 30 employees, or else they chose to ignore it.

For example, W. S. Rybak, a psychiatrist, served as an assistant superintendent at the Dixon State School while at the same time working weekends and nights for the Mississippi Mental Health Center. His part-time work earns him about $22,000 per year.

He is only one of 21 persons, most of them physicians, who were granted waivers in the last two years by Ogilvie to perform such work.

Dr. Lepper is just the highest ranking cabinet member to request such a status. He is not setting precedent.

As for the number of hours put in on a job, Democrats pointed out that John McCarter held two jobs simultaneously. He was acting director of the Department of Finance while serving as director of the Bureau of the Budget.

Dr. Bruce Flashner, deputy director of the Department of Public Health, was also medical director for the Department of Public Aid.

Although each was paid one salary, Democrats pointed out that Republicans did not complain about their workload.

Madison School Board Names Election Judges

The Madison School Board Thursday night appointed judges for the district's 14 polling places for the April 14 school election. They also appropriated $20 for each judge and custodian who will serve on election day.

Polling places and judges are:

Precinct 1—Madison Junior High School, Mrs. Joseph Thomas, head judge, and Jewell Barbes and Grace Johnson, judges.

Precinct 2—Harris School, Julia Voloski, head judge, and Mae Henderson and Dave Clark, judges.

Precinct 3—Blair School, Ethel Palm, head judge, and Ira Wilson and Odessa Collins, judges.

Precinct 4—Dunbar School, Janis Kemp, head judge, and Ada Walker and Pearl Hemingway, judges.

The board approved March 23 as the last day to file petitions and March 27 as the last day for candidates to withdraw.

They also agreed to have 6,500 ballots printed at Tri-City Printing Co., Granite City.

The use of Affidavit to Vote forms rather than poll lists and poll books was approved. The county clerk's office does not make poll books and lists available for school elections so each voter must sign an affidavit that he is registered in that precinct. After the election, the affidavit may be challenged.

Resignations were accepted from Nancy S. Meyer, a teacher, and Lenore Davis, a cafeteria worker. Applications for custodial, cafeteria and clerical aide positions were accepted and placed on file.

Raymond Kozielek, school district treasurer, reported that idle district funds deposited in time saving certificates during 1972 drew $13,425 interest. The treasurer's report showed $462,433 remaining in district funds, including $445,935 in savings certificates.

"We have been following a policy of keeping cash balances in all funds at a minimum and investing as much as possible in interest-bearing accounts. Last year we earned enough interest to at least pay the salaries of one teacher," Kozielek said.

Jack Moad Indicted On Murder Charge

Jack Moad, 38, of 5 Fontainebleau Drive, was indicted on a charge of murder by the Madison County Grand Jury Thursday afternoon in the fatal shooting of Charles T. Howland, 28, of 2337 Lincoln Ave., on March 3 at the Wayside Tavern.

He had been charged with voluntary manslaughter when he was arrested after the shooting and was released on $1,200 cash bail. He now is being held without bond in the County Jail.

The Grand Jury returned five indictments, including two others involving area crimes. Robert Austin, 19, of 1700 Delmar Ave., was charged with theft. He was arrested on a charge of possession of property stolen in a burglary of the home of Jeanne Scaturro, 1643 Edison Ave., on Jan. 27. His bond was set at $5,000.

Archie Pulley, 20, of Granite City, was charged with unlawful use of weapons, a 12-gauge double-barrel shotgun. No bond was set as he was being held in the Macoupin County Jail on another charge.

Alexander Speaks For Concerned Parents

Robert Alexander, a statistician from Washington University who has been conducting a study of the attitudes of Madison residents toward the school district, will be the guest speaker at a meeting of the Concerned Parents and Citizens of Madison at 8 p.m. Wednesday in the Harris School cafeteria in Madison.

Harris has been studying the effect of citizen opinions on school policies, part of his work toward a doctoral degree. Among the items in the survey are questions related to proposed busing plans for the district. The Concerned Parents group was formed to oppose busing in the district.

Also scheduled to speak at the meeting is Clarence Green, president of the Madison Senior Citizens' Club.

State Budget May Face a Rocky Path

Copley News Service

Springfield—His fellow Democrats have been slow to rally behind Gov. Dan Walker in the "battle of the budget."

While Republicans, especially the legislative leadership, have been quick to heavily attack the governor's budget, Democrats all along the line have shown a decided tendency to let Walker fight his own battle.

In fact, more than a few have been critical of it themselves.

Most notably is State School Supt. Michael J. Bakalis, who has publicly deplored failure to provide more money for schools.

His criticism has been amplified by school officials at Chicago and four Democratic lawmakers, including State Sen. Dawn Clark Lestler, one of the more influential women legislators, who expressed herself as "disappointed."

Intra-party sniping on education must be especially distressing to Walker since he emphasized in his budget address that a $134 million boost for education is "by far the largest increase in this budget."

Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley is known to be more than unhappy about the failure to take a strong stand in favor of more state money for the chronically ailing Chicago Transit Authority.

Democratic lawmakers from state college cities are worried about tight reins on spending for capital improvements important to regional economies.

The most popular Democratic state officeholder—and after 12 years as auditor probably one of the most knowledgeable persons in the state on budget matters—Secretary of State Michael J. Howlett has kept a firm silence on the Walker budget.

Howlett has a history of speaking out frankly on major controversies and has in the past supported such prominent Republicans as President Nixon and former Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie on hot issues.

His failure to speak out on the new budget is interpreted at the Statehouse as a message that he doesn't think much of it.

Walker is partly responsible for the lack of party support. He pretty much ignored elected state officers and legislative leaders in preparing it and has, in fact, touted it as a personal product.

LI. Gov. Neil Hartigan wasn't provided a copy in advance. He had to send up to the Capitol pressroom for one.

About the only Democrat of substance to publicly have a good word for Walker's budget has been State Treasurer Alan J. Dixon.

His comments have come in grassroots speeches and he has had little to say at the scene of the battle, the Statehouse.

Gov. Walker appears determined to run the governor's office as he ran his campaign—as a one-man show. His budget troubles may be directly related to that approach.

This Thursday 4 County Zoning Requests Ok'd

The Madison County Board approved four special use permits and variances of the county zoning ordinance in area townships as recommended by the County Zoning Board of Appeals at its meeting last week. Approved were petitions of:

James H. Williams to place a mobile home in an R-4 single-family residence district in Chouteau Township at 185 Douglas Place, Mitchell.

John A. Shelley for a variance to erect a sign of greater height than permitted in a B-3 highway business district at Two Twenty Mobile Home Sales, Mitchell.

Herbert J. Bischoff and Herman Williams for a variance in yard area and setback requirements in an M-2 general manufacturing district in Nameoki Township at Route 3 and W. Ponton Road.

Arley E. and Ralph Thompson to place a mobile home in an R-4 single-family residence district in Nameoki township at 2122 Hildebrand St., Cloverleaf, for a period not to exceed five years and for the sole occupancy of R. A. P. Thompson and wife. It is stipulated that a present mobile home on the tract be removed as soon as the new mobile home is placed on the lot.

Also approved was the petition of Southwestern Illinois Health Facilities Inc. by Daniel A. Hicks, executive vice-president, for a special use permit to place a hospital in an agricultural district of Collinsville Township with a stipulation that, now, and in the future, adjacent and nearby property owners be held blameless for any environmental pollutants which may evolve from farming or commercial activities present at the current time.

New Rules Protect Archeological Sites

Copley News Service

Springfield—Artifacts of enormous archeological worth and perhaps even dollar value may have been lost to the state of Illinois in the past because of lack of controls at archeological digs in the state.

A new policy adopted by the Department of Conservation will halt additional drifting away of unearthed items by requiring spot checks at the site, complete inventories of materials when digging ends, and definite agreements on what can be removed and when it must be returned.

Title to all artifacts and finds will remain at all times with the state under the new arrangement.

Since no one knows what items may have been removed in the past, there is no way to estimate what their value may have been, according to Chick Tammiga, chief of program services in the Parks and Memorials Division of the department.

There apparently no doubt, however, that numerous items have been lost, both inside and outside Illinois.

Archeological digging in this state has had a somewhat confusing past, with control at times under the control of the state museum.

Presently, the museum issues all permits for archeological digging in the state, but inventorying and control are handled by the conservation department.

Typical of the items which could be—or may have been—lost, Tammiga said, was a silver wall cross which was turned up a couple of years ago at Fort Charles. An old gun which was still in good condition also has been found.

Such items would have great possible value to a collector who would like to possess a cross dating back probably to the French occupation of the site, some 300 years ago, or a collector of antique guns, he said.

On the professional level, bones of men or animals, worked items of bone or other materials, and pottery pieces that trained archeologists much about ancient peoples who lived in Illinois and can sometimes totally revise earlier thinking.

Illinois, with such sites as Cahokia Mounds and Dickson Mound, as well as the privately financed and controlled Rock Island, is a fertile field for researchers into remote cultures of the North American continent.

In the past, Tammiga said, there was no way to know what was dug up, and diggers often removed items to their labs, their home base institutions or even to their homes, both inside and outside the state.

In some cases, when it was known items were being removed, the only stipulation attached was a vague conviction that the item must eventually be returned.

The new regulations will get their first real test when digging begins again this spring or summer, with the start of warm weather and long days.

At the completion of a dig—and optionally at any time during it—the department will send a trained auditor to make a complete accounting of everything on hand, including photos.

When the dig ends, an agreement will be worked out with the diggers, under which certain items which may require further study or cataloging can be removed for specific periods, not to exceed five years.

Because of the amount of present and potential digging in the state, Tammiga said, he would personally like to see much more of it done by Illinois schools, and less by out-of-state institutions which have staffed most of the archeological work in the past.

"It seems silly to me to send Illinois crews to dig in New Mexico while New Mexico sends its students to dig in Illinois," he said, adding that the mere risk of loss or damage to artifacts which must be transported long distances is a serious problem.

Have Complaint? She's Ready to Listen to It

Copley News Service

Springfield—A new assistant who actually looks for people who don't like the way her department is run has been added to the staff of the Illinois Department of Conservation.

Mrs. Sandra Blau has been named, personal assistant to Director Anthony Dean, with responsibility for handling the various complaints and requests which come either to the director or the department generally.

Her main job, she says, is to follow up on complaints and see that the person who complained gets a prompt and adequate reply.

What sort of things do people complain about?

Most of the objections so far, she says, have been about department personnel.

In those cases, she has investigated to find if the employee was actually guilty of improper performance, in which case she may bring the incident to the director's attention, for a reprimand.

If investigation shows instead that the employee was only doing what he should, she writes a reply telling what the rules are, and why the employee acted as he did.

Sometimes there are questions combined with objections.

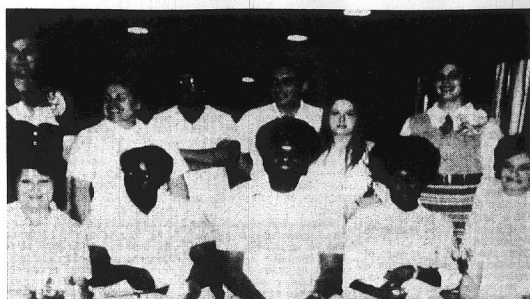

One letter writer wanted to know why he could ride his motorcycle in a given area last year, but was stopped this year. The reply to that, she said, was that he shouldn't have been allowed to do it last year, either; he just didn't get caught.

Many other letters actually come to her desk, or the director's, just because the writer doesn't know where else to go. If the department is actually involved, she tries to find out the appropriate channel and notify the writer.

So far, she says, she hasn't met any problem she couldn't handle—and adds she is surprised that there aren't more complaints.

A graduate of Senn High School in Chicago who attended Knox College in Galesburg, Mrs. Blau was Director Dean's assistant during the last two years while he served as suburban campaign manager for Gov. Dan Walker.

Prior to that time, she managed a regional office for an insurance company and developed and coordinated a task force study program on community issues.

Nurse Aides Graduate In Hospital Program

Graduation of nine nurse aide students from the Venice Lincoln Technical School's Nurse Aide program was held in the Wiesman Room of St. Elizabeth Hospital.

The 12-week nurse-aide training program is a joint effort of the Venice Technical School and St. Elizabeth Hospital, with the students receiving their clinical training at the hospital.

White Gideon Bibles were presented to each graduate. Speakers at the graduation ceremony were Ted Ellerman, assistant administrator of the hospital; Miss Helen McCain, the hospital's director of nursing services; Mr. John O. Pier, superintendent of Venice School District 3; and Mr. K. Duane Rankin, director of Venice-Lincoln Technical Center. Prayers were offered by Father Damien, hospital chaplain.

U. S. House Hearings on Pension Plans Scheduled

Congressman Melvin Price (D-East St. Louis) today announced that the House Education and Labor General Subcommittee on Labor will conduct hearings April 12 and 13 in this region relative to private welfare and pension plan legislation.

The hearing is one of several the subcommittee will hold to take testimony from persons and groups interested in Congressional efforts to enact a meaningful pension reform measure. Two days of open public hearings will be held on Thursday, April 12, and Friday, April 13. The subcommittee probably will convene at 10 a.m. on both days. The location of the hearings will be announced in the near future.

"Although some witnesses already have been scheduled to appear before the panel, I invite all interested parties to let me know if they would like to present testimony," said Price. The subcommittee will accommodate as many persons as they can within the time available.

Since the Subcommittee is completing three weeks of hearings in Washington during which it heard from many expert witnesses in the pension field, it is looking to the field hearings to complete the hearing record.

The subcommittee has been directing its attention toward measures which Cong. Price is sponsoring as well as other bills.

Model Car Contest Tomorrow Evening

which are intended to reform the present operations of the private pension system. Price's legislation would impose stiffer responsibilities on plan fiduciaries, require full reporting and disclosure, institute vesting after 10 years of employment, establish minimum funding standards, provide for pension credit portability, and insure plan benefits against loss by termination.

Those interested in testifying may contact Cong. Melvin Price, 2468 Rayburn House Office Building, Washington, D.C. 20515. Spectators are welcome, and seats will be available on a first-come-first-serve basis.

House, Garage Approved By Board of Appeals

The Granite City Board of Appeals recommended last week that the City Council approve a request by Matthew Kromraj to construct a house and garage three feet from the side property line at 2630 State St. The recommendation was contingent upon the building inspector approving final plans for construction.

The board considered a request by Samuel Nickell for a carport at 2371 E. 27th St., but Nickell withdrew his petition after a neighbor appeared before the board to object.

School Board Has Sole Voice In School Policy

Teacher organizations ask school boards to act illegally when they ask for an "equal voice" in school policy decisions, according to George C. Ackerslund, professor of educational administration at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

The opinion is expressed in an article by Ackerslund published in a recent issue of the Illinois School Board Journal. The SIUE professor also expressed the opinion that it is illegal for teacher organizations to ask for binding arbitration of disagreements over school board policy decisions.

Ackerslund said the law has placed on the school board the responsibility for making policy decisions, and the board does not have the authority to delegate this responsibility to anyone else.

Acknowledging that teacher organizations are pressing for the right to make policy decisions or getting decisions submitted to binding arbitration, Ackerslund said, "The standard charge, of course, is that the school board is arbitrary, unreasonable and capricious. What school board critics fail to realize is that where choices exist, the school is legally mandated to make the choice. The choice may not be the right one, in the critic's view, but it is the school board's decision to make — right or wrong."

Ackerslund pointed out that if the critic can prove the school board decision breaks the law, he has recourse to the courts. "But where two legal choices exist, the school board frequently appoints committees, made up of members of the school board or from the public, and charges them with making studies and recommendations. Final decisions, however, are reserved for the school board in legal session. The action may be an acceptance of the committee's recommendation, but it is not binding upon the board until the board has considered it, judged it and approved it."

The article by Ackerslund cites several court decisions which contribute to the evidence that school boards do not have the authority to delegate their authority and responsibilities to other groups.

Recruiting Is Heavy For Business Students

Accounting majors and students in other business disciplines are steadily receiving more job offers at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, according to David R. Van Horn, director of Placement Service.

Van Horn said SIUE's pattern of college recruiting follows a recent report by the College Placement Council (CPC), except in the field of engineering. The CPC survey shows evidence of a return to the pattern of college recruiting in the late 1960s, with students in the areas of engineering and business being sought more than those in humanities and social science disciplines.

There have been appreciable increases over the past year in the volume of job offers at SIUE by business and industrial employers, Van Horn said.

"All major public accounting firms in the area have been recruiting regularly on campus for June and September graduates," Van Horn said. "However, job opportunities seem to be down for men in the St. Louis metropolitan area, so a lot depends on whether or not a graduate is interested in relocating to another part of the country."

Salary averages at the bachelor's degree level in accounting have also gained 3.7% from last July to $886 per month, according to Van Horn.

Job offers in the areas of humanities and social sciences have dropped 23% from a year ago. The dollar average in those fields is only $715 per month, Van Horn said.

2 Hurt in Accident At State and Market

Andy Mance, 19, of 3304 Harvard Drive, and a passenger in his car, Miss Melody Scott, 19, of Fairview Heights, were injured when their car struck a fence at State and Market streets in Venice, Spu and was struck in the rear by the car of William Bulva, 1230 Iowa St., at 10 p.m. Thursday.

It was reported that both cars were northbound on the State street cut-off at Market Street when Mance tried to pass Bulva's car on the left. At the bottom of the hill, Mance's auto struck a wooden fence protecting railroad crossing signals at the intersection.

The left front wheel and part of the suspension of the car was broken off by the impact and Mance's car spun in front of Bulva's auto which was unable to stop before striking the spinning car.

Mance's vehicle came to rest facing south in the intersection. Mance and Miss Scott were taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital where splints were applied to the driver's right wrist and left leg. He was transferred to Firmin Desloge Hospital, St. Louis, with multiple injuries.

Miss Scott was treated for an abrasion to her cheek and injuries to her right forearm and chest. X-rays of her skull, spine, facial bones and right forearm were taken and she was released.

Truckload of Car Radiators Stolen

A truckload of old car radiators was stolen from O'Dell's Iron & Metal Co., 100 State St., Venice, it was reported Thursday.

The thieves entered the company yard by breaking open a gate. The dump truck, which was filled with radiators, did not run because company officials had removed the distributor wire as a safety precaution. The distributor wire from another truck in the yard was stolen and was placed in the truck with the radiators.

The truck then was driven from the salvage yard. It was recovered later by Venice police at Third and Jackson streets but the radiators had been removed. Police believe they were loaded into another truck.

REPORTS BURGLARY

Linda Atkinson, 226 Alexander St., reported at 11:55 p.m. Saturday that her home was burglarized. Taken were a television set, her wallet and some change.

DECISIVE FREE THROW by Ray Mosby (35) of Venice as he boosted his team to its final 55-53 margin over Bloomington Central Catholic Friday night. He then missed the bonus free throw but in doubling the one-point lead he assured at least a tie; as it turned out, Bloomington was unable to score another goal before time ran out.

TORRID DEFENSE by Maple Park Kaneland decided Saturday afternoon's semifinal game as the Venice Red Devils lost 46-34 in the Illinois Class A basketball tournament. This picture by Walter F. "Mick" Strange, Press-Record photo editor, shows some of the fierce action underneath the basket.

Venice players include Ray Mosby (35) and Ron Henry (53). It was the only loss suffered in tournament play by the Red Devils, who finished the 1972-73 season with a record of 31 wins and two defeats. Henry was named to the all-state tournament team and Mosby to the second squad.

LOCKING UP THIRD PLACE in the state tournament, Venice again was represented by Ray Mosby at the free throw line with five seconds left to play. He stepped out of the line, disallowing his first try, but was on target with his second charity toss and boosted the lead to the final 73-66 tally over St. Anne.

Devils Devastating in Powering Way to 3rd Place in State

Drama always is created by statewide high school basketball competition in Illinois, and there was extra interest and tension Friday and Saturday at Venice—with one of the littlest enrollments in the Class A tournament—stood tall and captured third place.

Quarterfinal play Friday at the University of Illinois, Champaign, had seen Venice narrowly defeat Bloomington Central Catholic 55-53 after Ridgeway toppled Petersburg 85-79, Maple Park Kaneland slowed down Fulton 42-35 and St. Anne eliminated Cerro Gordo 88-70.

Semifinal action Saturday resulted in a 73-61 Ridgeway victory over St. Anne and a 46-34 setback inflicted on Venice by defense-minded Kaneland.

On Saturday evening, Venice's 31-2 Red Devils captured third place with a 73-66 decision over St. Anne.

Ridgeway staged off a Kaneland rally to take the title, 94-51—bringing the championship to a Southern Illinois school even though it did not go to the local team.

The performance by all Venice players drew praise and Center Ron Henry, 6-5 junior, was chosen for a position on the all-tournament team.

Also named to the first team were Brent Browning and Cerro

Stevens, both Ridgeway guards; Steve Lynch, Kaneland forward; and Jack Sikma, St. Anne center.

Guard Ray Mosby, 5-10 Red Devils senior, was selected for the all-tournament second team along with Ron Ackerman, Kaneland guard, Mike Bradley, Bloomington Catholic guard, Kevin Washington, Portia center, and Mark Mull, Cerro Gordo forward.

Venice showed its class throughout the meet, including the third-place contest in which the Devils turned adversity into triumph before a packed Assembly Hall and a statewide television audience.

St. Anne, also 3-2 entering the game scored first but Henry and Mosby began hitting and it looked for a while like it might be an easy game.

The Devils took a 16-6 lead but 6-9 Jack Sikma became active and it was only 18-15 at the quarter.

Venice fell behind 27-24 and 33-30 before Dan Severs and Sonny Wiley hit two free throws each and Henry meshed a short jump shot to cut the deficit to 39-36 at halftime.

St. Anne stayed ahead 43-40 but a flurry lead, detonated to evaporate in a 33-33 score setting the stage for the final period.

With Sikma on his way to a 25-point total, St. Anne soared to a 62-57 lead but Tony Sittion drove for a layup. Severs hit two goals from the left corner, Sittion netted a layup and Harmon dropped in two free throws for a 68-61 Devil lead.

Against Kaneland, Venice trailed 12-9 after the first quarter but moved in front 18-16 at halftime as Henry began to find the range. It was tied 26-26 at the end of the third period and again at 28-28.

At this point, the defensive tactics of Kaneland began to have an impact and 6-6 Steve Lynch—held to four points in the first half and six points in the third period—poured in 13 more points.

Venice was held scoreless for two minutes and 19 seconds as Kaneland zoomed from 34-30 to 44-30.

Only 65 seconds remained, and Mosby's 20-foot jumper and Ron Taylor's layup were not enough.

The opening round also had provided thrilling moments for Venice players and fans.

It was a close throughout, Bloomington leading 9-8 after the first quarter and Venice garnering leads of 23-21 and 41-38 after the second and third periods. Bloomington's 15-14 edge in the final quarter fell two points short.

It was tied at 46-46 and 48-48. Henry's free throw was countered by a layup and free throw by Bloomington's Mike Bradley, a 23-point performer.

A Mosby free throw, a rebound goal by Henry and Sittion's two clutch free throws gave Venice a 54-51 advantage with 17 seconds remaining.

Bradley hit a layup to make it 54-53 with six seconds left. Mosby was immediately fouled but thwarted the enemy strategy by sinking the first of his two tries from the free throw line.

Heroes were plentiful on the Venice team.

Pointmakers against Bloomington were Henry 29, Mosby 8, Sittion 8, Wiley 6 and Severs 4.

Venice scorers in the semifinal defeat were Henry 14, Wiley 6, Severs, Mosby and Sittion 4 each and Taylor, 2.

In the third-place game, the well-balanced attack consisted of Henry 21, Severs 17, Sittion 14, Mosby 9, Wiley 8 and Harmon, 4.

"Bloomington took a lot out of us," Venice Coach William Ohlendorf told the Press-Record in assessing the problems with Kaneland. "We were tight and conservative and lost a little composure. We couldn't contain Lynch, but to sum it up Kaneland did a very, very good job."

"It was hard to prepare for St. Anne after losing, but the game released a lot of tension for us and both teams played well."

"We had a magnificent team attitude, and it won't be the last time we'll be at Champaign."

ATKINS DRIVES TO TOP PRO-STOCK HONORS HERE

CHAMPIONSHIP DRAG RACE yesterday at St. Louis International Raceway placed the pro-stock cars of David Atkins, left, and the Vagabond Vega of Joe Gouger, right. Atkins' car covered the quarter-mile in 10.5 seconds, one-tenth of a second faster than the 10.6 seconds required by the opponent.

The "Tough Rabbit" Vega of David Atkins won top honors among 16 pro-stock cars in a drag eliminations yesterday afternoon at St. Louis International Raceway south of Madison.

In the first round, Atkins met the fastest qualifier, veteran Joe Satmary of Hammond, Ind., who covered the quarter-mile in 9.72 seconds in time trials. Atkins qualified at 10.46 seconds.

On the line, Satmary's car ran into mechanical difficulties and Atkins won with a 10.45-second run.

In other first round action, the Suspicion Camaro of Roger Elliott and At Mitchell of Granite City lost to Tommy Johnson, the Matchmaker pro-stock defeated the Shanan Brothers and the Vagabond Vega of Joe Gouger was faster than Ed

Jerde. In the semi-final round, Atkins met Johnson and had an easy win in 9.92 seconds as Johnson's engine blew on the starting line. The Vagabond Vega defeated the Matchmaker in that round to pit Atkins against the Vagabond in the final elimination.

In the close championship event, Atkins ran 10.5 seconds on the quarter mile, one-tenth of a second faster than Gouger's 10.6 seconds to win the top money.

A wheel-standing dual between the "Hell On Wheels" 60 tank of Bob Perry and the "Little Red Wagon" of Bill "Maverick" Golden will be featured next Sunday at the track. Both vehicles will cover the quarter-mile on their rear wheels, reaching speeds in excess of 120-miles-per-hour.

Cougar Golf Prospects Show Optimistic Look

Coach Harry Gallatin's 1973 Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville golf team will tune up for its season on a trip to Florida. Gallatin is optimistic that his charges will considerably improve on their 17-11 record of last year.

"This past fall's series of competitive matches, in which I was able to see the boys playing under pressure, should prove very helpful to us," said Gallatin.

He added: "In the fall play I was able to watch each of the young men perform under much the same conditions that will prevail this season. I think we'll be ready for anyone we'll match," Gallatin predicted.

Gallatin's thumbnail description of nine of his top golfers follows:

"Randy Arnett. A junior, Arnett is a transfer from Reed Lake Junior College. He's an outstanding amateur in Southern Illinois golf circles. He won several tournaments in good competition in 1971-72. Randy established himself as one of the three best in our fall competition. A Mr. Vernon High School graduate, he's a left-handed player and is a hard competitor. He is a physical education major."

"Terry Soucek. A senior, Soucek is the most improved player on the squad. He's definitely a student of the game and is dedicated to perfecting his game. He has competed in several tough tournaments and has performed well. He plays and practices long hours and enjoys competition. He's a definite contender for medalist honors in the season coming up. He's a government major."

"Marty Baker. A senior, Baker is the longest hitter on the team and by all odds the most talkative. Marty was voted the most valuable player in 1971-72. A McCluer (St. Louis County) High graduate, he's a highly competitive golfer with muscle to burn. And, if he can become more consistent around the greens, this season could be his most productive. He's a business major."

"Keith Swindell. A freshman, Swindell is a natural player with plenty of polish who led his Mascooth High School team to honors in 1971-72. Keith was the surprise leader in last fall's play. His consistency was the big factor in his play.

He's a definite contender for team leader this season. "Bob Biarkis. A junior, Biarkis, or "Chicken Wing" as he is known to his teammates, has turned out his sophomore problems and is ready to make some noise this spring. A graduate of Edwardsville High, Bob has the best short game on the squad. He has a magic touch around the greens. His problem has been his lack of hitting the ball with power of the tee with consistency. He spent a lot of time on his game's weaknesses this past fall and he looks ready to move up. He's a pre-dental student."

"Mike Trebing. A freshman, Trebing is the most tireless worker on the SIUE squad. It is not unusual for Mike to spend eight to ten hours hitting balls. An Edwardsville High grad, Mike holds the course records at both the American Legion course and the Belk Park course in Wood River. His consistency is the key to the great strides Mike has made in his game. Maturity and more good competition will help him improve his already great swing."

"Doug MacCalla. A freshman, Doug has a basically sound swing. He hits the long ball extremely well and accurately for a young man of his size and he is highly competitive. He graduated from Brownsville, Tex., High School and has a great deal of experience for a college freshman. His potential for the future is great."

"Rusty Pierce. A sophomore, Rusty has been bothered by illness and had a recent operation to remove a painful cyst. One of the many standout golfers from Belleville, Pierce hits the long ball and is a good student of the game. If he is fully recovered, he should help the team very much."

"Rob Johnson. A sophomore, Johnson is one of the best golf prospects to graduate from Charleston, W. Va., High School. The son of a great left-handed golfer who competes nationally, Rob has suffered through a painful knee operation. Last season was a disappointment to Rob. A long ball hitter with great potential, Rob appears ready to live up to the great promise he has."

MORE ABOUT

Dunbar

You wouldn't have split shifts at the Dunbar high school on record that we will oppose a split shift in the elementary schools."

Several parents objected to all of the trees surrounding Dunbar being cut down last week. Fisk reported the city made the decision to cut the trees down because they were dead or dying. He said if the school district repairs the sidewalk damaged by roots, the city will plant new trees around the schools.

Mrs. Donna Crouk, president of the Concerned Parents and Citizens of Madison, asked the board why tardiness and absence records for students were not placed on the recent report cards.

"Several weeks ago we asked that these records be included on the report cards. You said they would be. They were not on the report card like to know why," she inquired.

Riddle said the teachers were not prepared to include that information on this set of report cards but pledged, "We'll see that it gets on there next time."

Mrs. Madison asked why integration plans have not been submitted to the state so that the district can qualify for Title Four funds. She said she attended a meeting in Chicago at which funds available to school districts was discussed but that integration plans are required before the Madison district can qualify. Wade James, head of special education programs and title programs for the district, responded, "I have been trying to get some of that money for two years." These are pilot programs only. There are no promises. We would like to talk further to the state for funds either under Title Four or Title Seven programs.

In the Nameoki area are retired 20 years in advance. The growth in the area shows that the people have great confidence, and that Granite City has a good future.

"In regard to industry closing in Granite City, the mayor and I met with industry leaders and they agreed to any concession we lawfully could do; but they said they could not continue because the cost of operation was more than they could afford."

"The only way you will ever attract industry to this area is for the union leaders to give the companies a fair break in wages."

Concerning the Downtown problems, the mayor several years back tried to get the Council to pass urban renewal from St. Elizabeth Hospital down to 16th street and all the way over to Cleveland Blvd. but he was turned down by the Council.

"The only way the Downtown will prosper is if we eliminate the bad housing, and build another shopping center so people will come in. The mall will be a help but will not solve all our problems."

"Also, we must have a large chain store and grocery store to make Downtown a first-class shopping center so people will come in. The mall will be a help but will not solve all our problems."

"The people of Granite City face a very important decision on April 3 and should return Mayor Partney to the mayor's office, as he has the ability and knowledge to carry this city forward through the next four years."

"Mr. Schuler is a very nice fellow, but four years on the Council does not give you the knowledge and know-how to operate a city of this size."

"I hope the people of Granite City give consideration to the fine city we have, the good financial condition we are in, and return Mayor Partney for four more years."

Nonn concluded, "In regard to a statement by my friend, former Alderman Skubish, regarding the $19,500 salary we set for the mayor:

"If a man that's over a $40,000-a-year corporation, our city, is not worth $19,500, then he must be a poor executive."

The Illinois House on Thursday voted 96-63 to lower the drinking age from 21 to 19. The bill now goes to the Senate.

A similar bill passed the House last year. The new proposal was assailed as leading to increased alcoholism and was praised as a move to repair liquor taxes currently being lost to law.

Rep. Harold Washington of Chicago said failure to approve the bill would have given young people "just another opportunity to laugh at you." Rep. Aaron Lyle of Skokie said one old enough to serve can be old enough to consume beer.

Opponents of lowering the age include Rep. Howard Callahan, Lawrenceville, who said it showed a "shocking lack of moral fiber." Rep. Thomas Miller, South Holland, who said it would "open the door to further breakdown of our society."

Steps Taken to Aid Bi-State Bus System

State and local governments are taking steps to subsidize the financially distressed Bi-State Transit Authority, which had announced it would be forced to cancel service on April 1 unless public funds became available.

The Illinois Legislature, which earlier this year provided $285,870 for the bus system, approved a transit aid bill on March 16, which includes $300,000 earmarked for Bi-State. Most of the money will go to the Transit Authority, with the rest going to other state transportation systems in financial difficulty.

The Missouri Legislature has a bill to allocate $215,456 for the bus system. It passed the Missouri Senate during the weekend and is awaiting House action.

The City of St. Louis, St. Louis County and county municipalities served by the system are expected to contribute to the program. Bi-State officials have reported that $803,456 is needed by April 1 to keep the buses in operation until June 30.

MISSOURIANS CHARGED

St. Louis, Mo., and Delores Williams, 34, both of St. Louis, and Ronald Gleghorn, 38, of St. Louis County, were arrested at P. N. Hirsch 18th Street and Edison Avenue, at 10:10 a.m. Saturday and charged with conspiracy and attempted theft. They allegedly tried to take six suits worth $300 from the store without paying.

New Renewal Deadline For Gun Registration

Starting July 1, Illinois gun owners must renew their Firearm Owners Identification cards during the month of their first birthday following the expiration date now printed on the card. Law Enforcement Director Harvey N. Johnson Jr. reports.

All of the cards have the birth date printed on them, and renewal applications will be accepted 90 days prior to this date.

Present Firearm Owners Identification card numbers will be reassigned and new cards issued. Old cards should not be destroyed until the new card is received, he said.

Johnson made the announcement after filing a ruling with Secretary of State Michael J. Howitt last week.

"The reason for changing the date of expiration on the cards to a birth date is that it will enable us to process renewal of the large number of identification cards issued during the first few months the law was in effect over a period of a year's time," Johnson said.

"This will spread the workload and help avoid delays in issuance of identification cards during the regular fall hunting season. It will assure much better service to Illinois hunters and sportsmen."

Of the 1,250,000 Illinois citizens who now hold Firearm Owners Identification cards, 830,000 registered during the first year the law was in effect.

Since by statute the cards must be renewed every five years, nearly 65% of all cards must be renewed between July 1, 1973, and June 30, 1974. It is expected that an additional 110,000 new gun owners also will apply for cards during this period.

New Firearm Owners Identification application forms are available at police departments, county and city offices, firearm dealers and sporting goods stores.

Instructions are printed on the reverse side of the forms, and supplemental information regarding renewal can be obtained where the forms are distributed.

The old identification number must be recorded in the space provided in the upper left hand corner of the form to expedite issuance of the new identification card.

In addition to the application, a new identifying photograph and a $5 remittance to cover a five-year registration period are required.

The Firearm Owners Identification Act provides that $3 of each registration fee be deposited in the Illinois Game and Fish Fund to be used by the Department of Conservation for the benefit of all Illinois sportsmen.

Illinois gun owners are registered to provide local-level law enforcement officials with a means to readily identify those individuals who are qualified to own, acquire, possess and handle firearms and firearm ammunition.

An average of 1,400 inquiries concerning individual registrations is received each month from federal, state and local law enforcement and judicial agencies.

Since enactment of the firearm law, hundreds of identification cards have been revoked and thousands of applications have been denied, making it more difficult for unqualified and dangerous persons to possess firearms in the state, Johnson said.

Illinois firearm controls and regulations are designed and administered to complement federal laws such as the Gun Control Act of 1968.

LEGAL INVESTIGATION techniques were explained last week to members of Explorers Post 10-4 sponsored by the Madison Police Department.

Arrest by Police Is Not Always Proof of Guilt

"Just because a person is arrested by the police does not necessarily mean the person has committed a crime," Anthony M. Golec, legal investigator and president of the National Association of Legal Investigators, explained to members of Explorers Post 10-4 at a meeting last week in the Madison Police Department.

"An arrest simply is the beginning of a legal process and several elements must be proven to determine if a crime actually has been committed and the defendant was guilty. We frequently are on the opposite side of the law enforcement people in criminal cases."

"I entered this profession for a couple of reasons. I think the most important reason is if you can help a person who is arrested and help people who defendant is guilty."

Golec, whose firm has offices in Belleville and four other Illinois and North Carolina cities, gave an in-depth outline of the role of a legal investigator.

"We work mostly for lawyers to find evidence to help the defendant. Most of our work consists of talking to people, taking statements from them and gathering evidence that can help the defendant's case. We frequently are on the opposite side of the law enforcement people in criminal cases."

"I entered this profession for a couple of reasons. I think the most important reason is if you can help a person who is arrested and help people who really need help. Of course it is financially rewarding," Golec stated.

He explained to members of the Explorers post that an investigator may earn between $10 and $25 per hour, depending upon experience.

Golec related several cases his firm has handled, ranging from two juveniles drag-racing to a serious accident involving a Playboy Bunny. He passed around pictures used to back up his client's case, and other documents collected as evidence, such as letters and out-of-state court judge had written to a girl friend.

Golec said the Explorers the most important single element in becoming a good legal investigator is command of the English language to communicate easily with the people that are giving statements. It also helps to write clear and understandable reports that the client can use.

There were 35 members of the post and one guest present. The group meets on the second and fourth Wednesday of every month at the Madison Police Department. Mike Bilbey of Venice is the group's president and J. Richard Hooks of Venice is the post advisor.

Any boy at least 15 years of age and interested in law enforcement is welcome to attend, according to Hooks.

Divers Spear Own Fish, Consume 200 Lobsters

Twelve days on Big Pine Key, 30 miles from Key West, Fla., were crowded with interesting activity for a group of scuba divers from the Bubblemesters Diving Club of Granite City. The vacationers returned home last week.

Skin and scuba diving in the 78-degree water temperature were enjoyed by the group which consumed an estimated 200 lobsters while on the trip. Their diet was supplemented with grouper, snark mackerel and conch chowder, sparing the fish themselves.

Most divers made the journey in camps, ate in communal style and were equipped with their own boats. Air temperature ranged from 88 to 92 degrees, according to Dee Adams, past president of the Bubblemesters.

An exciting diving experience was gained on Lou Key, located 12 miles out in the Atlantic. The key (small island) is submerged with only coral heads about three-feet high visible above the surface, but features plunging crevices and fissures up to 40-feet deep.

Lou Key abounds with octopus, dangerous moray eels, angel fish and large hermit crabs, among other specimens, Adams said.

"One octopus about three-feet in length snared by the divers gave us quite a scare in the boat," Adams said. All the octopuses were released after their capture, he added.

The divers ranged in age from an 8-year-old skin diving enthusiast to a 62-year-old qualified scuba diver, Adams reported.

In addition to their diving experiences, the group spent one day in Key West, where they viewed the huge sea turtles, rode the famous "conch train" and shopped.

Although the Bubblemesters speared their fish for food supplies, a change of menu was enjoyed one evening, Adams said, when Ed Duffin hosted a steak cookout for everyone. Those making the 2,900-mile roundtrip were Mr. and Mrs. Adams, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Rickey and sons, Rich and Wesley, Mr. and Mrs. Vance Weiss and children, Brian and Pam, Miss Sandy Christie, Edward Duffin, Richard Gizzard and Mr. and Mrs. Al Weiss and family.

Dick & Jane is out.

The old system of teaching reading with "Dick and Jane" just doesn't turn kids on anymore. Our children of the electronic age react to different stimuli than their parents did. Like television. For instance. Channel 9 teaches children in classrooms every school day. Instructional television (ITV) widens the walls of the classroom — exciting young minds to new ideas.

Your school district spends hundreds of dollars a year to educate each child. For only $1.25 more, the child can learn via television too. More than 400 Missouri and Illinois schools participate in Channel 9's ITV program. Does your school?

Colorful but Destructive Superbirds Headed This Way

Copley News Service
Springfield—This time, it isn't a plane, it isn't Superman, it is a bird.

In fact, it's Super-bird and it seems to be on the threshold of becoming Super-pest.

Technically, it's Myiopsitta monachus, but you can call it the monk parakeet, the Quaker parakeet or the gray-headed parakeet. By any name, it spells trouble.

Like Superman, Super-bird is flashily dressed, zips through the air at high speed, and seems to be impervious to any threat to his existence.

He doesn't even need a phone booth to change in, though he might build one of his huge communal nests atop one.

So far, their stick nests have been found on trees (where they sometimes break down branches by the sheer weight of the nest), buildings, telephone poles, an abandoned crane, 60 feet up on a microwave tower, and in a broken floodlight in New York City.

Adaptable, that's super-bird. The flashy, foot long parakeets are native to South America, particularly Paraguay, Uruguay, Brazil, Argentina and southern Bolivia.

Handsome, intelligent—some can be taught to talk—amusing and hardy, they were imported into this country and sold in pet shops.

Whether some escaped or were released, the end result is the same.

Whole flocks have adjusted to lower temperatures and are thriving in New York and New Jersey, with small colonies now wintering in Michigan, Ohio, Indiana and Wisconsin. Despite their tropical heritage, they have been observed out and about in sub-zero weather.

While no official sightings have been recorded yet in Illinois, there have been unconfirmed reports they are already here.

Jim Lockart, of the wildlife resources division of the State Department of Conservation, says he has asked not only his division's personnel but all conservation field workers to keep an eye out for the birds and report any sighting as accurately as possible, so that a specimen can be secured if possible for positive identification.

Since the monk parakeet has a taste for fruits, grains—especially corn—as well as sunflower, sorghum, millet and various seeds, its arrival in force in Illinois could be a real agricultural disaster. Scenic, but a disaster.

Compounding the problem is the bird's ability to survive. In Argentina authorities have tried burning nests, shooting, snaring, netting, poison baits and repellants without much success in reducing the population.

Bounties were offered for pairs of feet, and in two years, bounties were paid in just one province on 427,206 pairs. While overall average crop damages run between 5% and 15%, in some sectors it has been as high as 45%.

Conservationists, including the National Audubon Society, are urging that the birds be eliminated now before they become a super-problem too large to handle.

The division of wildlife research of the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service reports that the bird, if not checked, can be expected to spread from its present East Coast grounds south to Florida and all the way to the Southwest and the West Coast.

The monk parakeet is described as greenish gray above with lemon yellow belly and—poetically—"forecrown, cheeks, forehead and breast softly quaker gray, with darker feather edges."

Flight feathers are blue-gray and the long pointed tail is bluish gray. It has a rosy, flesh-colored bill and dark feet. Overall length is about one foot.

The birds build communal nests which they add to year after year, with some nests in their homeland reported to be 15 feet high.

The "monks" believe in charity and sometimes take in boarders—tree ducks or even an occasional opossum stop over for a while.

The Rev. Gilbert Barsour performed the double ring ceremony at 6 o'clock in the evening. Preceding the service, the church organists played "We've Only Just Begun" and The Lord's Prayer.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Venor R. Yeager, 3026 Myrtle Ave. The groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Bolandis, reside at 317 Hartmann St., Collinsville.

For her wedding, the bride chose a pure white sate gown fashioned with an Empire bodice, a yoke of plum lace etched with pearls and a high neckline. The long lace sleeves were ruffled at the wrists.

A very wide border of lace enhanced the hem of the A-line skirt and encircled the removable chapel-length train.

She wore a lace petal headpiece to secure an elbow-length veil and she held a bouquet of white carnations with pink baby roses.

Miss Janet Zamminer, maid of honor, wore a lavender and white dress of chiffon over tulle designed with a high neckline and long sleeves, accented with a white lace ruffle.

Bridesmaids, Mrs. Linda Wallace, a sister of the bride, Miss Alice Yeager, the bride's cousin and Mrs. Debbie Groe, and the flower girls, Rochelle Wallace, a niece of the bride, and Christine Yeager, the bride's cousin, were dressed alike.

Their frocks were created of lavender chiffon over tulle in an Empire style, with dark lavender ribbon marking the high rise waists.

The adult attendants carried bouquets of pale and deep purple mums and the flower girls held baskets filled with baby purple mums.

Attending the groom as best man was James Feig, a cousin of the groom, Wayne Feig, another cousin, David Wallace, Nick Cerreto, William Bolandis and Mike Pinkos completed the corps of groomsmen and ushers. Ken Feig was the ring bearer.

A reception was given at the D.A.V. Club in Granite City immediately following the service.

Mr. and Mrs. Bolandis, parents of the groom, gave the rehearsal dinner at their home.

A 1969 graduate of Granite City High School, the former Miss Yeager is employed at Mercantile Trust Bank, St. Louis.

Her husband was graduated in 1969 from Collinsville High School and in 1972 from Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, where he received a B.A. degree in mathematics.

He is a member of Phi Eta Sigma Fraternity and is now employed as a budget director at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

The newly married couple is residing in Granite City, following a wedding trip.

Don't say Avery didn't tell you to "buy in". Funny thing happened last Wednesday. A Lady was checking out and to her chagrin found that she didn't have enough money to pay for her order. We asked up her order and when her husband came to pick her up, she failed to pay for the order and our checker Mary Lou failed to see the order being carried out. So for Mary Lou's sake, if this customer reads this, come in and settle up and make Mary Lou happy.

Mrs. Ellen Wilson, president, presided at the meeting and announced the check represented proceeds from a Valentine dance sponsored in February by the council.

Other items discussed included Founder's Day, set April 30, and chapter histories that are to be turned in by the end of March to Mrs. Ruth Seymour.

Mrs. Sandy Cook requested volunteers to participate in the March of Dimes "March-a-Thon" and said those interested in taking part call 877-3146.

A discussion on collecting clothes for needy children in Vietnam was led by Mrs. Carolyn Goodwin. Chapters planning to assist in the project were asked to notify Mrs. Wilson.

An election of officers will be held at the April 2 meeting at the home of Mrs. Wilson. Members attending last week's session represented Nu Zeta, Theta Iota, Theta Theta, Xi Zeta Psi, Pi Eta and Xi Epsilon Chi chapters.

Miss Janice Hayes and Bernard Maxfield Wed

Miss Janice E. Hayes, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Hayes, 1428 Norwood Drive, and Bernard R. Maxfield, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard E. Maxfield, 80 Morris Court, were united in marriage on March 10 at St. Peter Evangelical United Church of Christ.

The candlelight ceremony was solemnized at 7 o'clock in the evening by the Rev. Robert Kettelhut.

Altar vases arranged with white flowers and green foliage were flanked on each side with burning tapers in branched candelabra. White satin bows marked the pews.

Walter Brummer presided at the organ as the Rev. Larry Hayes, an uncle of the bride, sang "The Lord's Prayer" and "If Ever I Would Leave You."

Mr. Hayes escorted his daughter down the white carpeted aisle and gave her in marriage. Her gown was a creation of delicate Chantilly lace designed with a molded bodice featuring a mandarin collar and long fitted sleeves.

Enhancing the yoke was a floral spray of seed pearls and iridescent sequins. A pale pink satin ribbon marked the natural waistline, terminating in the back with a bow and long streamers.

The full flared skirt was draped to the back, sweeping into a chapel length train. She chose a Juliet cap of lace, embellished with seed pearls and sequins on either side of a pale pink satin insertion ribbon, to hold in place an elbow-length veil. Her bouquet was a teardrop arrangement of white roses and pink carnations interspersed with green foliage.

The honor attendant, Miss Gail Wimberly, and the flower girl, Christa Hayes, a cousin of the bride, were gowned in identical frocks of pink chiffon with Empire waists and slightly full skirts. Long puffed sleeves were set into the fitted bodice, fashioned with a high neckline.

Miss Phyllis Kidwell, bridesmaid, was gowned in a blue chiffon dress made exactly as the maid of honor's dress. Each attendant wore a chiffon bow in her hair to match color of the frock. They held Colonial bouquets of carnations in harmonizing colors.

Scott Maxfield, a cousin of the groom, served as the ring-bearer.

Attending the groom as best man was Bob Keel, his brother-in-law. Roger Hayes, the bride's brother, was groomsmen.

Seating the guests were Walter Anders, brother-in-law of the bride and Kenneth Hayes, the bride's brother. Candlelighters were Jody Maxfield and Kevin Hayes, brothers of the bride.

Christie Hayes, a cousin of the bride and Connie Maxfield, a sister of the groom, registered the guests at a reception held at Polish Hall.

Both mothers wore formal-length gowns. Mrs. Hayes, mother of the bride, chose a light blue knit accented with rhinestones on the bodice. The groom's mother, Mrs. Maxfield, selected a dress designed with a pink chiffon bodice and wine velvet skirt. They wore white carnation corsages.

A rehearsal dinner was hosted by the groom's parents in their home on the evening before the wedding.

The former Miss Hayes, a 1972 graduate of Granite City High School, is employed at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Her husband, also a graduate of Granite City High School, presently is working at Granite City Steel Co.

Karen Hellwig Becomes Mrs. Foster H. Barnes
Mrs. Foster H. Barnes, the former Miss Karen Hellwig, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur W. Hellwig of Millstadt, Ill. She was married at St. James Catholic Church in Millstadt.

St. James Catholic Church in Millstadt, Ill., was the scene of the wedding Friday evening of Miss Karen Lynn Hellwig, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur W. Hellwig, Rural Route Two, Millstadt, and Foster H. Barnes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Barnes, 3801 Lake Drive, Officiating at the double ring ceremony was the Rev. Stephen Freund.

For her wedding, the former Miss Hellwig chose a ivory peau de soie gown lavishly appliqued with Chantilly lace motifs, etched with tiny seed pearls. A delicate fluted ruffled edged the scoop neckline and hem of the A line skirt. Lace floral motifs accented the fitted bodice, marked the high rise waistline and formed the side and back skirt. Matching motifs also fashioned the wide cuffs of the long sheer sleeves. She wore a cathedral-length veil veiled with lace medallions and she carried a bouquet of white roses, pink rosebuds and baby breath.

Matron of honor, Mrs. Thomas Ash, a sister of the bride, from Cupertino, Calif., and bridesmaids, Miss Lynn Lambert and Miss Ann Barnes, a sister of the groom, were groomed in identical frocks. Their dresses were designed in Empire style of a puffed blue crepe, featuring a high neckline edged in ivory lace. Lace was repeated on the cuffs of the long sleeves and defined the crescent waistline.

Leah Barnes, lower girl, a niece of the groom, wore an identically styled frock. Each carried a French style bouquet of multi-colored flowers in shades of yellow, blue and pink.

Serving as ringbearer was William Early, the groom's nephew. The groom chose his brother, Alvin Barnes III, as his best man. Groomsman included Thaddeus Podgany, Gregory Spence, Michael Barnes, another brother of the groom, and John Hommert.

Possible Role for University an Intriguing Aspect of Junior College Outlook as Time for Action Approaches

"We certainly hope that the citizens in your area will want to participate in a junior college district in the very near future," Dr. Fred L. Wellman, executive secretary of the Illinois Junior College Board, has informed Quincy Citizens.

His expression of "best wishes" is being taken at face value, as is his voiced desire that there be local determination—despite increasingly tougher-to-meet IJC guidelines which go far beyond the criteria outlined in Illinois statutes.

A 1965 state law launched the present junior college system in Illinois and 1972 legislative action requires that all areas not in a junior college district join one or create one or be assigned to one.

This is to be accomplished by Aug. 1, 1974, and for a community to chart its own course it must generate action toward a specific plan by July 1, 1973, slightly over three months from now.

In December 1972, Dr. Wellman said the IJC Board recommends that the Granite City, Venice, Madison, Collinsville junior college study-committee explore annexation to Lewis and Clark Community College.

To include the use of resources of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville before considering the formation of a separate new junior college district in the area.

He added, "We also realize that the representatives in the Collinsville area may wish to consider annexation to Belleville Area College and this would certainly be acceptable to the Illinois Junior College Board."

While Dr. Wellman did not say so, the statewide financial squeeze on higher education has prompted an increasingly conservative approach among some state junior college officials.

Their current thinking is that annexations may be less troublesome—at least in terms of state administrative chores—than would be the establishment of new districts.

Yet to be analyzed is the question of how "community college" services can be adequately provided if there is emphasis on multiple-campus rather than community-oriented districts.

The study of Godfrey and Belleville suggested by the state has been carried out, along with exploration of possible utilization of SUE resources.

Dr. Wellman has indicated uncertainty over what role SUE could play either as an entity of the Lewis and Clark District.

However, there is considerable doubt that a state university such as SUE is technically a part of a junior college district, even though the boundaries of the district encompass the university campus.

A specific legal opinion was promised in January but has not been disclosed.

On Oct. 10, representative of ten institutions of higher learning met at Sunset Hill Holiday Inn to approve formation of a Regional Council on Interinstitutional Cooperation.

They were Lewis and Clark, Belleville Area College, SUE, State Community College of East St. Louis, Parks College of Aeronautical Technology of St. Louis University, McKendree College, Graceland College, Greenville College, Kaskaskia College and Rend Lake College.

The ten said they "desire to encourage efficient use of educational resources on between colleges, and to provide educational services, development of innovative concepts and applications in higher education, and a mutual sharing of resources present in each institution."

The Council was "organized to provide a channel for exchange of information between faculty and administrators of each of the colleges; and to facilitate areawide dissemination of information in respect to educational opportunities and services at each of the colleges."

"The Council members will explore and recommend means through which potential funds, both public and private, available for faculty and administrative cooperation, may be obtained for the mutual benefit of the colleges."

A consortium between many of these same schools also has been formed.

How long will the citizens of Granite City be taking someone to court—just before elections—when they are going to "wake up and overturn this administration."

It is time for "divorce." Let us let Paul Schuler for mayor, or we can, must, and we shall prevail.

CITY PROMISES BROKEN

To the Editor:

Eight years ago we entered into a contract with our honorable mayor.

We were promised the moon and green cheese; since that time we have been led down the path of broken promises with a dying city and a tax base that just won't quit.

We are trying to say to the voters of Granite City, "Wake up and overturn this administration."

It is time for "divorce." Let us let Paul Schuler for mayor, or we can, must, and we shall prevail.

PRE-ELECTION TACTICS
INVITE COUNTER-SUIT

To the Editor:

Donald Partney is again resorting to "mud-slinging" complaints in the courts, using a tax-paid attorney in his bid for re-election.

He sang the same old song in the last election—trying his best to distort facts and figures. Everyone knows different pictures can be painted—it just depends on the artist. It seems that Donald Partney prefers to muddy the scenes.

He makes all sorts of accusations just before election. Isn't it odd that at election time he begins preaching how honest he is and how crooked all of his opponents are?

Perhaps, Mr. Partney should be taken to court and have him explain any monies he receives other than his salary for figures. Is he a stockholder or officer in Granite Sheet Metal Works or did his sons buy the business?

Can his tax reports stand any scrutiny?

It remains to be proved that Paul Schuler lied about his business associations, which he did not. His affairs are still the same as he states.

It is Donald Partney's method to agitate vicious rumors until after the election in the faint hope people will believe him again. We should not let it happen.

SAYS HE WAS FIRED
DUE TO STICKER FOR MAYOR

To the Editor:

It has always been my thinking, and I was taught in school, that a person should have the right in America to have his own convictions.

This is what has made our country great, so I have been told; yes, I have just been fired for exercising that privilege.

As mortician and funeral director for Davis Funeral Home, I have always performed my duties in a most professional manner. There is not a word of truth in an issue between my employer, ex-mayor Davis, and myself.

The irony is that our dispute evolved out of my selection and deep respect for Mayor Donald Partney, a candidate for mayor of Granite City.

I was worked at the Davis Funeral Home, off and on, since 1965, when I was in high school.

'TWO ORDERS OF HUMBLE PIE'
Patriotic Prisoners of War Revive America's Spirit

Copley News Service

When the first returning American prisoners of war set foot on Clark Air Force Base in the Philippines, they said, to a man, in one way or another, God bless America.

For the most part, citizens of the United States responded in kind.

Ours, however, is a pluralistic nation and there were those who had reservations about the genuineness of the POW emotions.

Numbered among them are the Jane Fondas and the Ramsey Clarks—professional anti-Vietnam agitators who expected the former POWs to criticize their country and its President.

The POWs have done neither. In still another league are the reporters in some of the nation's largest news media who found no unabashed patriotism of the former POWs contrary to their preconceived notions of how the men would act.

This thinking is represented in the opinions of one correspondent who wrote from Clark Air Base that there could be three reasons why "the American prisoners freed by the Communists have come home to the theme God bless America," which has set the stage for "unchallenged patriotism."

He suggests that the return of the POWs is one of America's "undisputed achievements" in the war, the only symbol of Some have returned to their home towns. All have had a great deal of public exposure; an opportunity to speak freely. All still are saying God bless America, passionately as they did a month ago.

The simple, sincere response of the returning prisoners of war—may have warmed the hearts of all Americans and given us many new perspectives.

Not the least of these is that the people who have lived in the shadow of the sincerity of the American people in Vietnam—or the intelligence and honesty of our prisoners of war—may have suffered a little brainwashing of their own.

The hand that tips the bottle

Meet Al Colicchio, America's biggest drinker. Al, a 46-year-old professional from one of the 24 elite states, consumed at least 3,066 gallons of absolute alcohol in 1970 (that's only the reported part of the country). Al gets 43 percent of his kicks from distilled spirits, 19 percent from wine, and 38 from beer. But he's not alone in tipping the bottle, according to the National Institute on Alcohol Abuse and Alcoholism. The average national consumption for the same time period was 5.61 gallons of absolute alcohol (the total amount of alcoholic beverage would, of course, be much greater and would vary depending on the type of alcoholic drink consumed).

The breakdown was 5.61 gallons of absolute alcohol (the total amount of alcoholic beverage would, of course, be much greater and would vary depending on the type of alcoholic drink consumed).

Business people are close behind at 81 percent of men, 30 percent of women are heavy drinkers. Ninety percent heavy drinkers, followed by salespersons: 79 percent of men with the percent drinking heavily and 79 percent of women, but with only one percent of men and 27 percent of women, it's 75 percent and 27 percent of the males, but only 42 percent and nine percent of the females.

Age is also a factor. Among both men and women the percentage of drinkers declines with age—the highest number of heavy drinkers among men are between the ages of 30 and 34, and 45 to 49—among women 21 to 24, and 45 to 49. For both sexes, those middle years are pretty risky!

What can a physical do for you? It can literally add years to your life, says Edward J. Kovalewski, M.D., head of the family practice division of the University of Maryland School of Medicine. By working from a relatively simple form that contains a variety of basic facts about you, such as your blood pressure, smoking habits and cholesterol level, your doctor can show you how much risk you run of succumbing to each of the most common causes of serious illness and death among people of your age, life style and physical condition. And then he can tell you how to take defensive measures—to fight the things that can make you ill or cause your life to end.

"Sophisticated diagnostic aids, miraculously effective medicines and an ever-increasing knowledge of general health patterns throughout the United States make it possible for the ordinary family doctor not only to treat those who are ill, but to help healthy people stay that way," says Kovalewski. "It's all part of something called preventive medicine."

UNION MAN WHO WROTE IS POLITICAL APPOINTEE

To the Editor:

I feel obligated as president of Local 67, United Steelworkers of America, to inform the voters and the readers of The Forum of the facts about the Local 67 trustee and the letter he wrote, "Union member re-opens endorsement by labor."

He said he was an active union man. The truth is that he has only attended nine of the last sixty-one meetings, which is really not being too active.

When I was elected president, I asked Mr. Stoppotte to act as a shop steward in the area he worked. His answer was, "As far as I'm concerned, you're on your own for the next three years." Some union men are not a very responsible trustee, either.

I'm surprised that he hasn't been in a union meeting protesting because his own Local No. 67, endorsed Mr. Schuler two meetings ago. Possibly he didn't know, or hasn't heard of this yet.

I think Mr. Stoppotte would have been much more accurate in signing his letter to The Forum if he had used his other title—deputy liquor commissioner.

He is a political appointee of Mayor Partney.

Voters, don't be misled by letters of this type. I encourage all voters to vote for Paul Schuler.

SAYS CHARGE BY MAYOR IS SHALLOW, INSULTING

To the Editor:

I wish to thank Mr. Partney for bringing to my attention the fact that Paul Schuler is such a potentially dangerous man.

I am certain that the charge of conflict of interest has been brought about solely as a civild-mind project.

Does Mr. Partney really believe that there is a voter in this city who can't see the shallowness of such a maneuver?

I accept the insult for what it is and will cast my vote accordingly.

INSTRUCTION-PRaised

To the Editor:

As parents of a child attending Emerson School we would like to say "Thank you" to Al Wilson, principal, and his teachers for giving the children of our school a new insight into learning.

The children of Emerson School have had a new and interesting way of learning through use of newspapers in the classroom.

They are not only learning the normal school subjects through the newspaper each day but they are being exposed to life outside of their own in a way that their parents would never be able to show them.

This program has been a success because of Mr. Wilson, the man behind it.

He was not satisfied with just teaching his students to do something to show his concern for our children, and one way has been to give this material more teaching method to our school.

The work done by the teachers in their classrooms through the newspaper has opened new doors of learning and understanding to every child.

We hope this program will continue and every school will adopt it will have as much success as ours. We thank all who have worked to bring this new method of teaching and learning to Emerson School.

LINKS CITY ELECTION TO HOPES FOR FUTURE

To the Editor:

It's a sad affair but it's true that the City of Granite City for the last eight years has been sitting on dead center and will die and sink in despair unless the people of this city from all walks of life do what needs to be done on April 3.

We must say we have enough, and tell our present mayor so with our vote. If we fail on April 3 to elect a new mayor, the future hope of Granite City will be lost.

We must not let this happen to a great city like Granite City. No city can prosper with people who have no administrative leadership.

To me this is crystal clear and cannot be disputed, for our present mayor has given us for the last eight years nothing more than a big fat zero.

If time goes on and our present mayor is retained in office, then our city will close its eyes and die just like East St. Louis has.

We will take years and years to revise our city while the people of Granite City will suffer and suffer.

It is time to think and to vote on April 3 for Paul Schuler for the next mayor of Granite City.

'RIGHTS' OPPONENT SAYS MEN, WOMEN DIFFERENT

To the Editor:

A few organized and outspoken women have tried to push the federal Equal Rights Amendment for quick passage, saying it is the key to fulfillment for all women.

They never mentioning the second part of the ERA, which gives Congress the sole power to push the 28 state laws that will be affected by the ERA.

The states will have no apparent say in the passage of Congress in this area of laws after a two-year period when ERA, if ratified, goes into effect.

The areas of law affected are: domestic law, community property, survivors' benefits, child support, prostitution, divorce, alimony, draft, abortion, Social Security and protective labor laws.

These laws will be subject to repeal and revision in the legislature and will involve a huge amount of litigation in the federal courts.

The legal inequality achieved by the ERA is interpreted by constitutional lawyers to mean a sameness between the sexes.

This new interpretation means there will be no distinction setting men and women in their family roles as traditionally assumed at this time.

We already have legal equality based on reasonable differences between the sexes under our federal constitution.

We women of the Happiness of Womanhood, Inc., and the League of Housewives urge people to call their representatives without delay and to vote against the state capital now. Ask for a "No" vote.

We represent 95% of the women and ask them to remain silent no longer.

We will stand to lose our protection, preferential treatment and special choices which we have worked 100 years to attain.

We are for legislation to correct specific inequalities. We have first-class status now and do not want second-rate manhood.

We know the EPA is unnecessary, as states have equal rights clauses in their new constitutions.

WISE TEACHERS AND PARENTS SAVE LIVES

To the Editor:

We read occasionally of the heroic saving of a life. Such an occurrence is to be greatly admired and is a noble deed that often unnoticed cases are quite common?

Take the case of a teacher who instructs her pupils regarding the terrible dangers of drinking alcoholic beverages, marijuana, and the use of other narcotic drugs. Surely such is saving lives.

Are not wise parents, friends, teachers, Sunday school teachers and others of like interest and activity also saving lives?

A Bible quotation here may be fitting: "A mocker; strong drink is a brawler, and whoever inherits it is not wise." (Proverbs 31:6)

Friends, please read Proverbs 23: 29-35, and be warned.

AUGUST BRIDE-ELECT, Miss Janet Marie Kline, whose engagement to Charles Robert Crowley is being announced by her parents, Mrs. Jennie T. Hall and Melvin R. Kline, both of Granite City.

Miss Janet Kline Is Bride-to-Be

The engagement of Miss Janet Marie Kline and Charles Robert Crowley is being announced by the bride-elect's parents, Mrs. Jennie T. Hall, 4118 Stearns Ave., and Melvin R. Kline, 2331 Waterson Ave.

Parents of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Crowley, reside in Gibson City, Ill.

Miss Kline, a 1970 graduate of Granite City High School, presently is enrolled at Eastern Illinois University and will graduate in December.

Her fiancé was graduated in 1968 from Gibson City High School. He also will graduate this year from Eastern Illinois University, where he is majoring in mathematics.

The betrothed couple is making plans for an August wedding.

Mr. Dew taught a special education class in the junior high school and Mrs. Dew was a fifth grade teacher.

She told the group of the history of the island that was at one time called the Island of Thieves by the ancient Guamanians. Later, the Spanish used the island as a penal colony, she related.

"The people are happy to be belong to the United States and are very patriotic," Mrs. Dew added.

"Temperature on the island is 85 degrees all year and there are two seasons, the dry and rainy seasons. When the rains begin the typhoon season also begins with winds reaching 130 miles per hour. For this reason some of the buildings are built of cement bricks with cement roofs," Mrs. Dew explained.

The verbal, non-written language of the people is called, Chamorro but English is taught in the schools as a second language. This language is the only thing that is left of the island culture, the guest speaker said.

Mrs. Charles Kohn was hostess for the meeting and Mrs. James Fox gave the pledge of allegiance and the club collected money for the United States flag.

The next meeting will be held at the church with Mrs. T. C. Auferheide as hostess.

Guam Topic of Ladies Coterie

Program chairman Mrs. Leonard Davis introduced Mrs. Larry Dew, the guest speaker, at a meeting of the Ladies' Coterie held Thursday at the First United Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. Dew, a former Granite City school teacher, gave a talk on the two years she and her husband spent on the island of Guam, showing slides to illustrate her speech.

While living on the island, Mr. Dew taught a special education class in the junior high school and Mrs. Dew was a fifth grade teacher.

She told the group of the history of the island that was at one time called the Island of Thieves by the ancient Guamanians. Later, the Spanish used the island as a penal colony, she related.

"The people are happy to be belong to the United States and are very patriotic," Mrs. Dew added.

"Temperature on the island is 85 degrees all year and there are two seasons, the dry and rainy seasons. When the rains begin the typhoon season also begins with winds reaching 130 miles per hour. For this reason some of the buildings are built of cement bricks with cement roofs," Mrs. Dew explained.

The verbal, non-written language of the people is called, Chamorro but English is taught in the schools as a second language. This language is the only thing that is left of the island culture, the guest speaker said.

Mrs. Charles Kohn was hostess for the meeting and Mrs. James Fox gave the pledge of allegiance and the club collected money for the United States flag.

The next meeting will be held at the church with Mrs. T. C. Auferheide as hostess.

I MARSHALL BROOKS do not think it fair to the voters to be left with one man running for reelection as our 3rd ward alderman. Therefore I feel he should be challenged for this position. Jobs Decline in U.S. Steel Industry As Imports Climb, Women Are Told Norman Garrett of Granite City Steel Co.'s public relations department was guest speaker last week at a meeting of the Women's Division of the Trifolium Chapter of Commerce at Charlie's Restaurant.

Garrett highlighted his talk with a film "Where's Joe?" Previously shown on network television, the movie emphasized how the competitive market deals with import materials and the results of imports on the U.S. economy and job picture.

The film, which is to be presented at the Washington Theatre April 4 and April 5 for the benefit of area steelworkers, noted that 130,000 jobs have been lost in the U.S. steel industry to foreign countries in recent years.

In 1971, the film's statistics showed there were 18.3 million tons of steel manufactured in the United States. The tonnage dropped to 17.7 million tons in 1972.

It was brought out that in past years American shipyards produced most major vessels, while today this type of production has declined to only 2% of world's ship construction market.

Mrs. Emylee Alford, Women's Division president, said the film "created great impact on its viewers and made all aware of our prevailing labor image."

Granite City Steel is one of the largest producers of steel in the midwestern states. Mrs. Sara Dempsey announced an antique show is being planned for later this year. The Women's Division of the Chamber will offer trees for sale to the public this spring to aid the city beautification program. It was reported Mrs. Jo Meyers will serve as tree project chairman.

The group nominated Mrs. Betty Miles to the membership committee, with responsibility for contacting local business people.

Among those attending the dinner were Mesdames Alford, Dempsey, Nigel Maers, Pauline Dubish, Norma Schroeder, Shaw Sullivan, Mary DeKum, Jessie Burger, Miles, Janet Partney, Mary Blankenship, Dr. Felicia Koch, Marty Kirsch, and Mrs. Nancy Pugg and Marie Szymek.

Mrs. and Mrs. DONALD C. ALEXANDER, who were married Saturday afternoon at Sacred Heart Catholic Church. She is the former Miss Rosemary Ann Boyd, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Boyd, 2400 State St.

Alexander-Boyd Wedding At Sacred Heart Church

The wedding of Miss Rosemary Ann Boyd, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Boyd, 2400 State St., and Donald Carl Alexander, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Alexander, 2924 National Ave., was solemnized in an afternoon ceremony Saturday at Sacred Heart Roman Catholic Church.

Bouquets of white, yellow and pink carnations decorated the altar for the two o'clock double ring service, performed by the Rev. Daniel Flynn.

Following the ceremony, Mrs. Margaret MacZura sang "We've Only Just Begun," "Ave Maria," "On This Day O Beautiful Mother" and The Lord's Prayer, accompanied at the organ by Mrs. Margaret Claws.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride selected a full-length white gown designed in Empire style, featuring a scalloped Chantilly lace redingote effect on the skirt that extended into a chapel-length train.

The oval neckline was etched with pearls and iridescent sequins and the long tapered sleeves terminated at the wrists in points. A front panel of the skirt was fashioned of organza, and a flat self-fabric bow accented the crescent waistline.

She wore a lace cap encrusted with seed pearls to secure a fingertip veil of bridal illusion and she held a cascade of yellow, green and pink carnations and baby fern, centered with a white orchid.

Maid of honor, Miss Patricia Schueke, was attired in a formal-length dress created in yellow chiffon. The gown was enhanced with white lace and ribbon around the high neckline, on the cuffs of the long sleeves and formed the train. Her bouquet was an arrangement of yellow and white daisies.

Miss Linnie Stalecker and Miss Cheryl Gertsch, bridesmaids, chose pink and green frocks, respectively. Identical in style to the honor attendant's dress. They carried colorful bouquets of multi-colored daisies, festooned with white satin loops and streamers.

Attending the groom was Kenneth E. Hall, best man. Charles Wilkins and Dennis Meyers served as groomsmen and Thomas Boyd, a brother of the bride, and Charles Alexander, the groom's brother, seated the guests.

The newly married couple received guests at a reception at the VFW Hall, 21st Street and Washington Avenue.

A rehearsal dinner was hosted by the bride's parents on Friday night.

After a wedding trip to Cincinnati, Ohio, the couple will reside in Granite City.

The bride, a January graduate of Granite City High School, is now employed at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Mr. Alexander was graduated from Granite City High School and Ball Technical School in St. Louis. He is employed in St. Louis.

Armed Bandit Robs Burger King

An armed robber escaped with an undetermined amount of money at the Burger King Drive-In, 5406 Nameoki Road, at 7:40 p.m. Friday.

Steve Dietsch, manager, said man in his early 20's approached the waitress, Jean Richardson, pulled a blue handgun from his waist, and said "Give me all the money."

The waitress handed him all of the bills from the cash register and the man walked out, headed north on Nameoki Road.

He was described as being 6 feet tall, 185 pounds, collar-length blond hair combed straight, wearing an Army fatigues jacket with a band aid on the chin.

EXCESS GAS BURNER. This $110,000 excess gas bleeder-burner stack has virtually eliminated gas emissions from Granite City Steel Company's blast furnaces. At the top of the 150-foot-high stack is a twin-barreled, automatic combustion chamber in which excess blast furnace gas is ignited, burned and neutralized into harmless carbon dioxide. The equipment is part of a multi-million dollar state-approved pollution control program the company is implementing.

Blast Furnace Gas Emissions Virtually Ended

Gas emissions from Granite City Steel Company's blast furnaces have been virtually eliminated as a result of the installation of a $110,000 excess gas bleeder-burner exhaust stack. Dr. Donald F. Cairns, vice-president, said today.

Surplus blast gas furnace gas now is ignited and neutralized into harmless carbon dioxide by the bleeder-burner.

The new blast furnace pollution control equipment consists principally of a 150-foot-high stack, at the top of which is a twin-barreled, automatic combustion chamber in which the excess gas is ignited and burned.

Granite City Steel operates the only two blast furnaces in the St. Louis area.

The big furnaces, which stand taller than 18-story buildings, produce up to 5,000 tons of pig iron a day.

From ore, sliver (reclaimed mill wastes), coke and limestone are charged into the top of the furnaces. Hot blast air is blown into the bottom of the furnaces at a rate of 100,000 cubic feet per minute.

Oxygen in the air combines with carbon in the burning coke, creating more intense heat which roars up through the materials in the furnace, removing the oxygen from the iron ore.

Molten pig iron, the end product, settles to the bottom of the hearth and is tapped - off periodically. Pig iron, which is about 92% pure, is then refined to produce steel.

Particulate matter is almost completely removed from the blast furnace gas before it reaches the new bleeder-burner stack by a three-stage dust collection, wet scrubbing and gas cooling control system.

Most of the cleaned gas is re-used to heat incoming blast air and to fuel steam generators that provide power throughout the Blast Furnace Division.

Surplus gas moves to the new gas bleeder-burner stack, which is the third device the company has installed under its $4,600,000 state-approved program to further reduce air pollution from its blast furnaces.

Dr. Joan J. Roberts, head of air pollution control for the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency, has said the company's particulate levels should be reduced by 90% and that overall

GEORGE A. CARBIN

G. A. Carbin To GC Steel Post

George A. Carbin, general supervisor-industrial engineering of the Great Lakes Steel Division of National Steel Corp., has been appointed manager-industrial engineering for Granite City Steel Co., a subsidiary of National Steel, it was announced today. He replaces J. W. Christy who has resigned.

Carbin has been with Great Lakes Steel more than 18 years and, prior to that was with another steel company. He is a member of the American Institute of Industrial Engineering, a graduate of Boston College with a degree in industrial management, is married, and has four children.

Granite City Steel, the largest steel producer in the St. Louis area, manufactures plate, hot and cold rolled sheet, galvanized sheet and other flat rolled steel products.

Granite City smoke and dust counts should fall by 50% when all elements of the program are in operation.

The major part of the program includes a new $2,250,000 automatic cold oven coal charging system, considered to be the most advanced in the world, and a $1,300,000 high-efficiency further particulate emissions from the mill's sinter plant. Both are under construction now.

Dr. Cairns said the program is on schedule, and that further progress announcements are planned.

Amvets Auxiliary Boy Runs In Front To Host Meetings Of Auto, Is Injured

Amvets Auxiliary Post 51 discussed plans for a District 5 meeting Sunday, to be hosted by the local post with the Illinois State President, Mrs. Gertrude Berg, attending, during a regular meeting of the Auxiliary last week.

Also reviewed were tentative plans for a visit of national Amvets Auxiliary President Doris L. Boring and Mrs. Berg, on April 2, for a mid-day luncheon. Final plans will be arranged as the date is confirmed.

Mrs. Etta Clements, membership chairman, announced the membership is now at 80% on renewals.

A report also was given on aiding a local family secure needed clothing by Mrs. Ann Tucker Jr., vice-president. She said the auxiliary also will start a collection of canned food items for the family.

Four volunteers representing the auxiliary will participate in the Multiple Sclerosis Society campaign for funds, followed by a luncheon at the post.

The white elephant prize was won by Mrs. Marie Freese and refreshments were served by Mrs. Tucker and Mrs. Glenda Brockman using a large green sherry Sherbrooke cake as the centerpiece.

Retirees Elect New President

The American Association of Retired People met last week in the 300 room of Tri-Mor Bowl and elected Mrs. Vernice Bowman as president to replace Charles Kelly, who resigned because of ill health.

During the meeting they also named a Sunshine Committee with Mrs. Fern Eggle and Mrs. Elsie Lung as co-chairman. The entertainment committee will be headed by Arthur Lindner, Viola Lindner and Clara Riess.

Birthdays observed were those of Fred Breyer, Elizabeth Novich, Viola Carey and Frances Jones.

Mrs. Bowman announced the next meeting at 6:30 p.m. April 11 will be a pot luck dinner and each member is to bring a covered dish with meat to be furnished by the organization. Anyone who is over 55 and interested in joining the group is invited to the April meeting at Tri-Mor.

GEORGE A. CARBIN

G. A. Carbin To GC Steel Post

George A. Carbin, general supervisor-industrial engineering of the Great Lakes Steel Division of National Steel Corp., has been appointed manager-industrial engineering for Granite City Steel Co., a subsidiary of National Steel, it was announced today. He replaces J. W. Christy who has resigned.

Carbin has been with Great Lakes Steel more than 18 years and, prior to that was with another steel company. He is a member of the American Institute of Industrial Engineering, a graduate of Boston College with a degree in industrial management, is married, and has four children.

Granite City Steel, the largest steel producer in the St. Louis area, manufactures plate, hot and cold rolled sheet, galvanized sheet and other flat rolled steel products.

Granite City smoke and dust counts should fall by 50% when all elements of the program are in operation.

The major part of the program includes a new $2,250,000 automatic cold oven coal charging system, considered to be the most advanced in the world, and a $1,300,000 high-efficiency further particulate emissions from the mill's sinter plant. Both are under construction now.

Dr. Cairns said the program is on schedule, and that further progress announcements are planned.

GC Steel Women View Fashions

A spring fashion show of new styles presented by Marilyn's House of Fashion provided the program for a meeting of the Granite City Steel Women's Association last week in the general office cafeteria.

Modeling the latest creations were Barbara Dombrosky, Kathy Gocian, Emylee Alford, Vinita Alford, Pat Bar, Marian Willard, Betty Sansing.

Edith Mitchell, Gay Rosch, Penny Manogian, Phyllis Grimm, Lorraine Williams and Peggy Solberger.

The committee chairman, Lois Chapline, opened the meeting with prayer and was assisted with the evening arrangements by Alice Allen, Bonnie Cain, Rita Conway, Wilma Manogian and Terry Morgan.

A short business meeting followed the show and prizes going to Wilma Tongay, Louise Koeser and Alice Allen were gift certificates to Marilyn's House of Fashions.

Navy Mothers Install Members

Two new members, Mrs. Mary E. Foster and Mrs. Jerry Townsend, were installed at a social meeting of the Granite City Navy Mothers Club Thursday night at the VFW hall, with Mildred Walker, commander, presiding.

Three $25 donations were sent to the Service Center in Philadelphia, Pa. Blue Jackets Haven, Oakland, Calif., and Camp Lejeune, N.C.

"Officers' package" was awarded to Mrs. Betty Metz and other prizes were won by Mrs. Albert Elthington, Mrs. Alice Christman and Mrs. Edna Miller.

Hostesses for the evening were Peggy Jones, Mrs. Nellie Dix and Mrs. Stella Miller.

The next meeting date has been changed to April 3 at the VFW.
